1983 FALL

SEASON

October 19, 1983

THE PRINCETON BALLET

One of the leading regional dance companies in the country, the Princeton Ballet is comprised of a core of resident professional dancers supplemented by talented apprentices selected at annual auditions from the Princeton Ballet School and studios throughout the tri-state area.

"The Princeton Ballet soars in works of high contrast."

Valerie Sudol
Star Ledger
April 15, 1983

FESTIVAL BRASS

Under the direction of John Deval, a trained music educator and professional musician, Festival Brass brings top professional musicians from Broadway and renowned bands to the children in your school. To students it's a mini-lesson on the tuba, a chance to conduct; it's learning how the instruments work and getting to know the musical family. It's participation, communication, self-expression in a new way — through music. (Study guides are available)

INNER CITY ENSEMBLE THEATER AND DANCE COMPANY

There is nothing quite like the fresh, jubilant energy of a dedicated young dancer, and the Inner City Ensemble boasts a company full of them. These dancers from Paterson, New Jersey have performed from Lincoln Center to Puerto Rico and have thrilled audiences along the way.

"The company was cheered throughout the performance and was given a standing ovation."

THE NEWARK BOYS CHORUS

The Newark Boys Chorus is a performance group of 9-14 year olds who offer a diversified repertoire ranging from renaissance, classical, popular, spirituals and folk music, to contemporary works specifically commissioned for the Newark Boys Chorus. They have most recently returned from a tour of Vermont and Japan, and performed under the Direction of Gunther Schuller at Carnegie Hall with the American Symphony Orchestra in February, 1983. This is a special treat for the Holiday season.

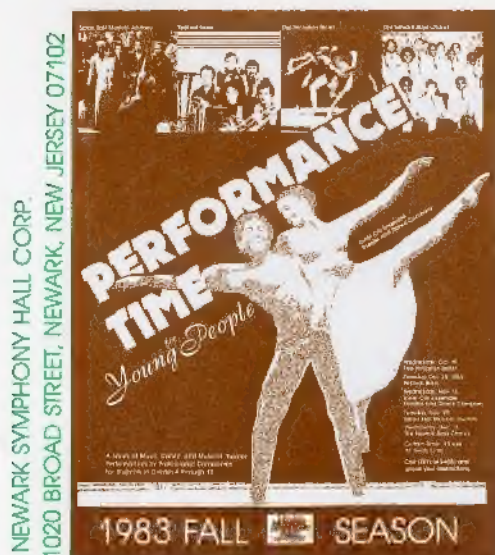

The New Newark Symphony Hall - School Series was started in 1964 and was one of the pioneer programs in daytime concerts for young people of elementary and high school age in New Jersey. The Newark Symphony Hall 1982-1983 season introduced Dancetime For Young People, a spring series of performances by professional dance companies for students in grades 4 through 12. The overwhelming response from teachers and students to the Dancetime series has encouraged us to expand our offerings for this season. During the 1983-1984 season you will be enjoying 12 programs of music, dance and musical theater as we present Performance Time For Young People at the New Newark Symphony Hall.

Newark Symphony Hall has throughout its history been the scene for a wide variety of events. Our objective is to maintain a balance compatible with our role as New Jersey's premiere concert hall. Programming is as diverse as the populations we serve, so that not only classical and popular events are presented, but school and community programs as well.

The New Newark Symphony Hall

Newark Symphony Hall, built in 1925, is one of New Jersey's most valuable cultural assets. Its large audience capacity, the beauty of its interior, and its superb acoustics make it irreplaceable as a facility for the performance of dance, theater and music. Newark Symphony Hall is the home of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, the New Jersey State Opera, the Theater of Universal Images, and the Newark Boys Chorus. Other constituents include the Garden State Ballet, the New Jersey Ballet and the Newark Community School of the Arts.
